

Alicia Keys plays intimate rooftop show despite the rain

By Mara Siegler

June 28, 2018

Alicia Keys Getty Images

Rain didn't stop Alicia Keys from giving an intimate performance on the roof of the Lower East Side gallery Perrotin on Wednesday for 200 guests — including Harry Belafonte, Chris Rock and Strokes drummer Fabrizio Moretti.

Hip French street artist JR launched a new show, “Horizontal,” at the gallery, which also debuted “Aloalo: Mahafaly Sculptures of the Efiambelos,” in collaboration with renowned African-art expert André Magnin.

<https://pagesix.com/2018/06/28/alicia-keys-plays-intimate-rooftop-show-despite-the-rain/>